

Illinois State Historical Library O-3

THE TRAVELING LAWYER pictured in a circular ambrotype by Amon T. Joslin, Danville, Illinois, about May 27, 1857. Joslin's gallery, the first in Danville, was on the second floor of a building adjoining the Woodbury Drug Store, one of Lincoln's favorite hangouts. The original ambrotype is mounted in reverse in a velvet-lined case.